TAFT SCORES PRESIDENT IN SENATE TALK

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared in the senate today that President Truman has no power to commit American troops to a European defense force without approval first from congress.

Taft asserted, too, that the president "without authority x x x involved us in the Korean war."

In his first foreign policy speech of the 82nd congress, Taft said he is willing to commit "some limited number of American divisions" to North Atlantic defenses. But he said the Europeans must take the lead in forming such a force.

Taft said that before the North Atlantic Defense Pact was ratified by the senate "responsible officials" denied that the United States would be called upon to use ground forces in Europe.

SEUL SEARED—Abandoned by virtually all civilians and most UN rear guards, the nearly deserted city of Seoul, with smoke rising from burning buildings, was a smoldering empty shell as U. S. 8th Army forces evacuated the South Korean capital minutes ahead of onrushing Red Forces.

Splitting Up of Warner Bros. Empire To Result In Disposition Of Local Theatre

Plans for splitting the vast Warner Brothers movie empire into two separate concerns announced by Attorney General McGrath, as mentioned in Associated Press dispatches from Washington, will eventually result in the film magnates disposing of the Columbia theater in this city, acquired from the Columbia Amusement Co., of Erie, in 1930, and one of two playhouses the company has operated in Warren since that time.

According to Washington dispatches the proposed action is part of the government's drive extending over twelve years to break up movie combines on the ground of anti-trust law violations.

Canteen Youth Unit Hears Report By Chair Committee

Nula Cheronis, presided over the youth unit of the Warren Youth Canteen at a meeting held in the WMCA last evening. The meeting opened with a report of the committee on the number of chairs given by various business places and individuals around Warren.

So far sales have been small, with nearly 200 chairs still needed to make the drive a success. Any establishment or person who has not been approached and desires to donate to such a cause, can contact Jim Hengst at the YMCA. The price is only $3.50 and the name of the contributor will be placed in the back of each chair.

Warren State Police Report For 1950 Shows Increase In Non-Fatal Accidents

Sgt. James Vaughn, commanding officer of the Warren station of state police, in his annual report issued yesterday afternoon, stated that fatal accidents in Warren county were cut in half during 1950 as compared with 1949, but that the total number of non-fatal accidents was greater. The report covers work of the Warren station.

Seven persons were killed on county highways the past year, and 14 in 1949. During 1950, there were 167 accidents investigated in which 132 persons were injured and property damage amounted to $94,000. Arrests made totaled 852 with 224 of these for driving too fast for conditions. Second most common violation was speeding with 181 arrests on that charge. Stop sign violations totaled 109, and six drunken drivers were apprehended.

In addition to these figures, police made 234 criminal investigations and 72 criminal arrests. Four stolen cars were recovered. Officers traveled 106,452 miles on patrol and another 13,000 miles in other cars on special investigations.

Police continued the Green Penant safety program in schools, and fine results achieved.

Officers worked 9,675 man hours at station, attending to all details in connection with its operation.

Sgt. Vaughn concluded his report with the statement, "It becomes the duty of every operator and pedestrian to use the utmost of care when using our highways today."

"ACCIDENTS JUST DON'T HAPPEN—THEY ARE CAUSED BY SOMEONE MAKING A MISTAKE. It may be that the last mistake you are ever able to make, the undertaker will take over at that point. The automobile—when used in an improper manner—is a great weapon of destruction."

"THINK IT OVER. THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN."

Officers Named By Polio Chapter Here

New officers were elected yesterday for the Warren County chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

Mrs. Harry Lewis will serve as chairman for the polio group. Other new officers are L. M. Donaldson, vice chairman; Miss Martha Topper, secretary, and Andrew Nelson, treasurer.

Warren's polio funds are now exhausted, including money raised in an emergency drive by the Zonta Club. Members of the chapter have among the Warren county cases a patient receiving care in a Harrisburg hospital at a cost of $20 a day.

The chapter appealed to the national foundation for more funds.

Girl Scouts Complete Plans For Annual Twelfth Night Ceremonies On Saturday

Plans are all set for the traditional Twelfth Night ceremonies and the Burning of the Greens tomorrow afternoon and evening. The Warren Girl Scout Council sponsors the annual event which begins tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in the Beaty School auditorium and to which all Brownies, Intermediates, and Senior Girl Scouts are invited as well as the public.

Tomorrow's program in the Beaty auditorium includes motion pictures, a magic show, and games provided by Mrs. Harold Stohl's Girl Scout Troop. The girls will also have a noshbag supper with the Girl Scout Council providing the pop and cake.

The tokens which the girls find in the cake will determine the King and Queen and the Royal Court which will be appropriately dressed for the occasion. Judge Allison D. Wade will have charge of the coronation in the auditorium about 6:30 o'clock.

Shortly before seven p. m. the girls will be escorted by the Boy Scouts in a Grand march from the school to Beaty Field. At seven o'clock the huge pile of Christmas trees will be ignited and the burning of the greens will be the climax to the festivities.

In addition to the ceremonies in Warren, the communities of Sheffield, Youngsville, and Russell are holding their own Twelfth Night observance.

Prayer For Rain In California Answered

Santa Paula, Calif., Jan. 5—(AP)—The Rev. Gene Fussell's prayers for rain have brought it, promptly, for the second year in a row.

Light rain fell yesterday less than 24 hours after three special services were held in Mr. Fussell's first Baptist church. Other churches joined in the prayers.

There had been less than two inches of rain in the last eight months.

A year ago precipitation totalling 1.45 inches occurred the same day that the minister he'll a similar pray-for-rain service, after 10 months of drought.

Cadet Laughingly Flies To Death In Stolen Army Plane

Caldwell, Tex., Jan. 5—(AP)—A young French cadet—heavy hearted because he couldn't win his wings—yesterday stole an Air Force plane and laughing flew it to his death.

He flew until the T-6 training plane ran out of gas and crashed into a thicket near this central Texas town.

Capt. Alain Jourdan, a French liaison officer, said the cadet told him by radio: "I spend my last hours in the air and then I die."

A note indicating he intended to crash the plane was found just after he took off from Randolph Air Base near San Antonio and Jourdan said the cadet apologized to "the American Air Force for destroying this plane."

Jourdan, who flew alongside the cadet in another trainer in an effort to coax him down, said the cadet seemed in command of his emotions and "laughed many times."

The cadet went to the flight line about 10:20 a. m. (CST), climbed into the training plane and took off.

He zoomed low over Stinson and Brooks air bases, whizzed down over Randolph, then headed north. Fights of other planes chased him over the skies, but returned to the base when their gas started running low.

Officers at Randolph predicted the Frenchman's single-engine plane would be out of gas by 2 p. m.

Apparently the Frenchman flew a meandering course. He crashed about 1:30 p. m. (CST) in a wooded pasture about five miles west of here.

U. N. IS SPLIT OVER NEXT MOVE IN KOREA

League Success, Jan. 5—(AP)—United Nations Non-Communist delegates appeared split into two camps today as the assembly's political committee considered its next moves in the Korean crisis.

The United States and some other delegations went ahead with plans to seek a formal U. N. condemnation of Red China as an aggressor. Some of the Asian and Middle East countries, however, were understood to favor making another appeal to the Chinese to halt the fighting before discussing any stronger measures.

U. S. sources said that while the American delegation was standing firm on the necessity of a U. N. condemnation, there was little likelihood that a denunciatory resolution would be introduced when the political committee meets at 3 p. m. today.

THREE IN FAMILY ARE KILLED IN CAR CRASH

Granite City, Ill., Jan. 5—(AP)—A truck loaded with boxboard overturned on an automobile near Edwardsville, Ill., yesterday, killing three members of an Alhuppa, Pa., family and seriously injuring another.

The dead: Donald A. Hendry, Sr., 32, and his two sons, Richard, three, and six months-old Donald, Jr.

The mother, Mrs. Virginia Macy Hendry, 27, suffered a possible skull fracture. Hospital attendants said her condition is serious.

PRICE FREEZE DIRECTIVE IS UNDER STUDY

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—The government was reported today to be drafting an order that all business firms give a 30-day notice before raising prices.

This would have the effect of a one-month price "freeze" although it would not apply to all farm prices, because of certain provisions of law.

Retail food prices were shown by the bureau of labor statistics today to have risen 1.2 per cent between Nov. 28 and Dec. 15—almost to the record high reached in July of 1948.

There was no immediate confirmation of the plan to issue a 30-day advance notice order. However, reports from people close to price director Michael V. Disalle and his staff said the decision has been made to issue such an order very soon.

Today's report on gains in food prices came as farm belt congressmen protested in advance against an anticipated request from president Truman to let him put his own controls on farm prices.

The BLS reported a rise of 1.2 per cent in retail food prices between Nov. 28 and Dec. 15. The price index was estimated at 216.3 per cent of the 1935-39 average. That was within 0.2 per cent of the all-time record of 216.8.

The next index was 3.2 per cent higher than on June 15, before the Korean war started. It was up 9.6 per cent from a year ago.

Prices of 50 foods were studied in eight cities: Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Columbus, New York, Richmond, San Francisco and Washington. Almost all classes of retail food items were found to have increased in price.

Eggs, for example, went up 14.2 per cent in the eight cities combined at a season when they normally decline in price.

A controversy over prospective controls on food prices shaped up in the wake of Mr. Truman's news conference statement—that he may ask congress to change the law which gives him price-wage control powers.

A. P. Photographer Safe, Peiping Says

Tokyo, Jan. 5—(AP)—A Peiping radio broadcast said today that Frank Noel, Associated Press Photographer captured by the Chinese Reds in Korea on Dec. 1, is safe in a rear-area prisoners' camp.

The radio quoted a Communist special correspondent as saying Noel was one of the prisoners who—the radio said—signed a statement thanking the Reds for "Courteous and kind treatment." The broadcast was heard by the Associated Press in Tokyo.

Noel's address was given by the radio as 152 Western ave., Albany, N. Y.

Drafting Of Boys 18 Years Of Age Defense Dep't Plan

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—The defense department plans to ask congress to let it draft 18-year olds and tighten deferments and exemptions for currently draft eligible men from 19 through 25.

Felix Larkin, the defense department's general counsel, told reporters today of the plans. He said a manpower bill would be submitted to congress within two weeks designed to meet additional needs for the men for the armed services.

Larkin said the plan is to extend the present 21-month service period for draftees to 27 or 30 months. He added, however, that this term was not firm and might be changed before the manpower bill reaches congress.

About 1,200,000 boys will reach 18 during the next fiscal year beginning July 1 and about 800,000 of these could be expected to meet physical requirements for military service, Larkin estimated.

The defense department proposal, he said, would permit 17-year olds to enlist with their parents' permission; 18-year olds would be automatically eligible for the draft as soon as they had completed high school. He added that those who reached 19 and were still in high school would "probably have to be yanked out."

Larkin said 18-year old draftees would not be sent overseas until after their full basic military training.

Union City School Boy Flood Victim

Meadville, Jan. 5—(AP)—At least two streets in the fifth ward of Meadville and some outlying sections are flooded today by troublesome French Creek.

Some sections of nearby Erie county also are flooded but observers said the creek's rate of rise has fallen and no serious property damage is anticipated. Snow, thaw and then rain sent the creek out of its banks.

At nearby Union City a six-year old boy drowned when he fell into a raging torrent en route home from school for lunch. Volunteers recovered the body of Clyde C. Daley from a culvert filled by overflow water from French Creek.

The creek is about one foot over flood stage in Meadville. It is rising at one-tenth of a foot an hour. Some roads have been closed or traffic curtailed. Route 19 at Cambridge Springs, 20 miles north of Meadville, is closed. A few miles south of Meadville water from Conneaut marsh spilled onto the same route. One-way traffic was put into effect.

HOME DAMAGED

A partition and two windows were damaged at 7:30 a. m. today at the home of Charles McGuire, 517 East street, when kindling wood in a box near a stove became ignited and started a fire. Firemen responded to a box call with Engine 3, a pumper and the aerial truck. No one was injured and damage was estimated at $250. Equipment returned at eight o'clock.

PENSION UNDER PROBE

Pittsburgh, Jan. 5—(AP)—The police widows' pension fund is under scrutiny by a special grand jury probing local governments in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. Several bank representatives testified in the closed session yesterday. State investigators said a total of 108 Pittsburgh officials and policemen will have their bank records examined before the probe is completed.

Chinese Troops Pour Down Secondary Roads In An Effort To Cut Off Large UN Units

Tokyo, Jan. 5—(AP)—Swarms of Chinese Red troops pushed on southward tonight and menaced Wonju, important Allied escape highway center 55 miles east of Seoul.

General MacArthur's headquarters said seven Communist armies—perhaps 210,000 men—are moving from the Chunchon area toward Wonju.

They apparently aim to destroy United Nations forces there and then wheel west in an attempt to cut off Eighth Army units retreating down from ruined Seoul.

Allied pilots said they saw the heaviest traffic yet observed in Korea behind the enemy lines. They reported 1,200 vehicles clogging North Korean roads.

The Allies in a skillful retreat had yielded Seoul, its airfield at Kimpo and the port of Inchon.

At Inchon U. N. units blasted docks and the tidal basin, then left by sea. The main body of U. N. troops moved on southward by land.

Four cut-off South Korean divisions broke through Communist road blocks and reached U. N. lines north of Wonju Thursday after a four-day battle. With the Koreans safely back, U. N. lines were drawn closer around Wonju.

Chinese troops pouring down secondary roads and through valleys could turn left or right at Wonju and possibly cut off parts of the Allied forces.

It was a desperate race.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Eighth Army commander, returned to his headquarters late in the day after visiting two of his Army corps defending the retreat.

"Everything is going fine," he said.

But the tough Army general said the retreat from Seoul was dwarfed by the tragedy of hundreds of thousands of Koreans unable to get out ahead of the oncoming Communists.

The last U. N. elements, port and service personnel at burning Inchon, blew up the harbor at 2 a. m. Friday and rode out on the morning tide.

U. N. planes already were bombing Seoul and Kimpo, its main airfield.

R-80 Shooting Star jets attacked a Chinese battalion at the demolished air base with rockets and jelled gasoline fire bombs.

AP Correspondent Don Huth flew over Seoul and said the (Turn to Page Ten)

High Officer Says Korean Withdrawal Not Any Dunkerque

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—A high Army officer asserted emphatically today that the withdrawal of United Nations forces in Korea is a well-planned and executed withdrawal and "is not any rout or any Dunkerque."

The officer, who may not be named, emphasized that point repeatedly in talking to reporters at a Pentagon briefing session.

At the same time, he presented a set of figures to show the overwhelming strength now being thrown by the Chinese and North Korean Communists against the United Nations forces.

A total of 950,000 enemy troops, of which 450,000 are still being held in reserve in North Korea, are involved in the all-out push, he said.

Other figures supplied the reporters included:

Six Chinese armies of about 30,000 men each are at the front and five are in reserve to the north.

CHICAGO GANG BOSS REFUSES TO ANSWER

Washington, Jan. 5—(AP)—Dapper Anthony J. (Tony) Accardo, reputed Chicago underworld gambling boss, refused today to tell senate investigators about his income and associates. The senators voted to cite him for contempt.

Accardo slouched in the witness chair with his hands folded and declined, during a two-hour public hearing, to answer most of the questions put to him. Many of the inquiries dealt with bookie operations in Chicago and Miami.

Spiraling Cost Of Local Government Is Reflected In Record Budget For Year

People generally have a speaking acquaintance with soaring costs of meat and food commodities, but overlook the spiraling cost of local government in seeking the reasons why that familiar jingle of coins is missing from the pockets of their jeans.

Warren borough—a community of some 15,000 persons—proposes through its duly elected officers to spend during 1951 a total of $268,000, or approximately $18 for each man, woman and child for "general government" purposes.

But that's not all. There's also a required outlay of $29,950 for interest and retirement of bonds from the $200,000 bond issue floated by the solons last summer to provide funds for a big street paving program, installation of sewer, repair of bridges and other general improvements.

And there's still more. Council also has set up a special street lighting fund, and proposes to spend $15,500 to modernize the lighting system and to provide additional illumination for darkened residential areas.

Bunched all together, this makes the total proposed outlay of cash by the borough in 1951 a lusty $313,450, or approximately $21 per person.

How does this compare with previous years? Well, you need only to go back as far as 1945 to find the total outlay of cash proposed for Warren borough that year was $190,000, or $122,979 less than the proposed budget for 1951.

The spiral is very apparent in these budget estimates of expenses:

	1948	1949
General government	$179,471	$245,338
Sinking Fund	11,000	11,000
Total	$190,000	$256,338

Special Services And Programs Are Held At Ludlow

Ludlow, Jan. 5—Churches and Sunday schools of the community have had a busy holiday season, with special services and programs.

Moriah Sunday school had an excellent attendance for its program, "Come to the Manger". In connection with this, perfect attendance awards were given Richard Johnson for 10 years, Freddie Johnson for 6, Janice and Richard Carlson for 3, Ronald Gilfert and Nancy Carlson for one year each. These awards were given by Superintendent Enoch O. Nelson, who also gave Pastor Hans Pearson a gift of money from the congregation and Ludlow friends.

Superintendent Ernest Carlson led the entire program for the Covenant Mission Sunday school program, which also enjoyed a fine attendance. Attendance awards were given here, also, Henry Carlson having a three-year record; Alice Carlson, one year. Besides presenting these awards Mr. Carlson represented the congregation and friends in presenting a gift of money to Pastor Herman Davidson. Silver dollars from James Connelly were given the children, along with a candy treat from Mr. and Mrs. Otto Carlson.

Christmas Eve services were well attended in both churches, as was the Luther League New Year Wake at Moriah church and the Mission church Watch Night. Ernest Carlson, superintendent of the latter's church school, was given a Bible and purse of money in recognition of his many years of devoted service to the church and Sunday school.

Moriah choir had Mrs. Ruth McConnell, Kane, as guest soloist for its special Christmas song service, with 24 singers directed by Mrs. Emil Nelson and accompanied by Mrs. Enoch Nelson. VETERANS NEWS

Furnished by Joseph D. Benson, Director of V. A. Court House, Warren

Veterans Recalled To Active Service

Veterans drawing benefit payments from the VA can save themselves and the government a lot of trouble—and possible future headaches—by notifying the VA immediately of their recall. These benefit payments include GI Bill or Public Law 16 subsistence allowances and compensation for service-connected disabilities. The law does not permit a veteran to draw such VA payments when he goes back into uniform.

The VA asks that if a veteran receives such payment covering any period after recall to the colors he should return it to the VA office which has his records. Otherwise, it will be charged as an overpayment against him. Notification of reentry into the service should include the veteran's "C" (claim) number, complete name and address, the amount of the VA payment, what it's for and the date he is to go back into service.

Mail From Servicemen

Mail and other communications from servicemen serving overseas in which they mention sickness or wound should be saved because of their possible value in establishing claims at some future date.

While the various armed services do keep records of ailments and treatments to military personnel, in many instances service records have been lost or even destroyed by the enemy. Mention of disabilities in a letter has often meant the difference between establishing service connection and being denied.

Prisoner of War Claims

Claims must be filed before March 1, 1951. The widow of a prisoner of war or civilian internee is eligible to receive a sur-

few guests with a special party at their home.

Announcement has been made by Moriah church that auditors are meeting with treasurers of all organizations in preparation for the annual meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, January 16.

Krebs, 10 Kenmore street, one of the best known Masonic leaders in the district, who is planning to leave for Philadelphia this month where he will assume the position of secretary to the right worshipful grand master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Pennsylvania, will be the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner sponsored by North Star Lodge No. 241, F. & A. M., in Masonic temple, Liberty street, Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

The occasion will mark another ingathering of outstanding grand lodge officials, including William E. Yeager, of this city, right worshipful grand master of the grand lodge of Pennsylvania, and other officers including the following: Paul Connor, Coudersport, district deputy of district 44; E. Gurdon Potter, Smethport, district deputy district 22; Robert E. Deyoe, Oil City, district deputy 23; the Rev. G. Mason Cochran, Oil City, grand chaplain; Archibald P. Crossett, grand sword bearer; and the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, grand chaplain.

Reservations have been made for the dinner by 165 members of the fraternity from the two lodges in Warren and others in the area. The dinner will be prepared by the Lewis Catering Service and will be served by a group of members of the Warren chapter of the Eastern Star.

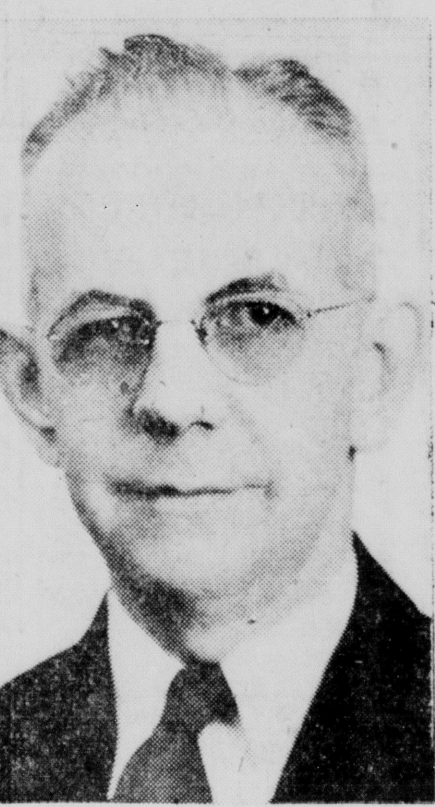

vivor's benefit even though she has married again. Remarriage does not affect a survivor's eligibility under the War Claims Act. A brother or sister is not eligible unless evidence shows they stood in place of a parent to the deceased.

Terminal Leave

Terminal Leave applicants must be filed before July 1, 1951, unless discharge was corrected to honorable status, then one year from date of change is allowed.

The Changing Landscapes

HAROLD W. GEIGER

Hello, folks. The midwinter thaw this week is beginning to show its effects on many unprotected fields in the county. Rain and melting snow are slowly cutting rivulets and small gullies in many places.

Drainage terraces and diversions have been running nearly full on most of the conservation farms having them. Just watching the terraces run water makes one wonder where all the water can possibly come from.

Glenn Kahle, Scandia farmer, completed his farm conservation plan this week, for the place better known as the Albert Ristau farm just north of Chinberg's store. Glenn is mainly interested in quite a bit of pasture improvement, drainage and strip cropping.

Arvid Gruber, well known Lander farmer, also finished making his conservation plan this week. Arvid's plan centers around the grassland type of farming using grass for both hay and silage. He also plans to install a tile drain for removing seepage from near the barn. Arvid has been improving part of his pastures and expects to complete this conservation practice before long.

Bruce Bailey, East Branch farmer, told me this week that he was pleased with his two diversions that he built just before the bad weather set in last fall. Bruce said that, the next day after they were finished, they were running

Men Do Not Know How Much Energy Housework Takes

Housework to anyone but a housewife is just another necessary chore that takes just a short time with a minimum of effort. Most menfolk don't realize what a hard job housework really is and what a great amount of energy it takes. Mrs. O. E. Moncus, 66-year-old great-grandmother, didn't feel up to doing her housework, but now, since she is taking HADACOL, she is able to do her housework without a mite of trouble. Mrs. Moncus found that HADACOL supplied Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which her system lacked.

Mrs. Moncus says: "I was weak, run-down, nervous and food didn't agree with me like it should. It gave me indigestion. And I had no appetite. I heard about HADACOL on the radio and how it had helped people who felt like I did. I had aches and pains, too, and these, plus the other things that bothered me, made me feel mighty bad. I just didn't feel up to doing my housework. I started taking HADACOL and after the third bottle I could tell I was a whole lot better. I have taken 15 bottles of HADACOL and I feel so good. I am no longer weak or run-down or nervous. I feel stronger and have pep and energy. My appetite is fine and I no longer have indigestion. And the aches and pains—why, they have been relieved so much. My weight went back to normal and I do my housework without a mite of trouble—mop the floors and clean the blinds and feel fine afterwards. I think HADACOL is wonderful. My husband takes it, too, as does my daughter. We make sure that there is always plenty of HADACOL in the house."

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE CONVENES—The two houses of the Pennsylvania State legislature meet in a joint session to hear an address by retiring Gov. James Duff, as the legislature convened. water and have been every time we have a thaw.

Dick Trislet, Columbus farmer, reports that birdsfoot trefoil hay, seeded in 1949, cut a fairly good crop this past summer, considering that the soil in that field had been in such poor shape. Dick used timothy with this relatively new legume and seeded it in oats. We'll keep an eye on it this next summer.

I talked to Art Garber, Grand Valley farmer and line dealer, this week and learned that he is busy this winter getting out some pulpwood from his farm woodland. Art has tried some chemical bark peeling and thinks it is a labor saver. He used a regular weed-killing chemical, painting it on a girdled band around the tree during the early summer months. As the poison was absorbed through the tree, the bark gradually loosened and came off, leaving a peeled tree ready for feeling and cutting up. Peeled wood brings Art about $2.50 per cord more than rough (unpeeled) wood.

Cutting of low value trees, undesirable species, and deformed trees is a good conservation measure to boost woodlot tree growth. And making use of these trees for pulpwood is good business for any farmer who can spend a few hours in the woods during the winter months. The conservation of our woodlots is every bit as important in the present emergency as is the protection of our thin layer of topsoil.

Attendance awards were given here, also, Henry Carlson having a three-year record; Alice Carlson, one year. Besides presenting these awards Mr. Carlson represented the congregation and friends in presenting a gift of money to Pastor Herman Davidson. Silver dollars from James Connolly were given the children, along with a candy treat from Mr. and Mrs. Otto Carlson.

Christmas Eve services were well attended in both churches, as was the Luther League New Year Wake at Moriah church and the Mission church Watch Night. Ernest Carlson, superintendent of the latter's church school, was given a Bible and purse of money in recognition of his many years of devoted service to the church and Sunday school.

Moriah choir had Mrs. Ruth McConnell, Kane, as guest soloist for its special Christmas song service, with 24 singers directed by Mrs. Emil Nelson and accompanied by Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Moriah Ladies Aid entertained the choir and families for a smorgasbord after the program. Last week, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson entertained the choir and a

VETERANS NEWS

Furnished by Joseph D. Benson, Director of V. A. Court House, Warren

Veterans Recalled To Active Service

Veterans drawing benefit payments from the VA can save themselves and the government a lot of trouble—and possible future headaches—by notifying the VA immediately of their recall. These benefit payments include GI Bill or Public Law 16 subsistence allowances and compensation for service-connected disabilities. The law does not permit a veteran to draw such VA payments when he goes back into uniform.

The VA asks that if a veteran receives such payment covering any period after recall to the colors he should return it to the VA office which has his records. Otherwise, it will be charged as an overpayment against him. Notification of reentry into the service should include the veteran's "C" (claim) number, complete name and address, the amount of the VA payment, what it's for and the date he is to go back into service.

Mail From Servicemen

Mail and other communications from servicemen serving overseas in which they mention sickness or wound should be saved because of their possible value in establishing claims at some future date.

While the various armed services do keep records of ailments and treatments to military personnel, in many instances service records have been lost or even destroyed by the enemy. Mention of disabilities in a letter has often meant the difference between establishing service connection and being denied.

Prisoner of War Claims

Claims must be filed before March 1, 1951. The widow of a prisoner of war or civilian internee is eligible to receive a sur-

few guests with a special party at their home.

Announcement has been made by Moriah church that auditors are meeting with treasurers of all organizations in preparation for the annual meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, January 16.

The Changing Landscapes

HAROLD W. GEIGER

Hello, folks. The midwinter thaw this week is beginning to show its effects on many unprotected fields in the county. Rain and melting snow are slowly cutting rivulets and small gullies in many places.

Drainage terraces and diversions have been running nearly full on most of the conservation farms having them. Just watching the terraces run water makes one wonder where all the water can possibly come from.

Glenn Kahle, Scandia farmer, completed his farm conservation plan this week, for the place better known as the Albert Ristau farm just north of Chinberg's store. Glenn is mainly interested in quite a bit of pasture improvement, drainage and strip cropping.

Arvid Gruber, well known Lander farmer, also finished making his conservation plan this week. Arvid's plan centers around the grassland type of farming using grass for both hay and silage. He also plans to install a tile drain for removing seepage from near the barn. Arvid has been improving part of his pastures and expects to complete this conservation practice before long.

Bruce Bailey, East Branch farmer, told me this week that he was pleased with his two diversions that he built just before the bad weather set in last fall. Bruce said that, the next day after they were finished, they were running

Housework to anyone but a housewife is just another necessary chore that takes just a short time with a minimum of effort. Most menfolk don't realize what a hard job housework really is and what a great amount of energy it takes.

Mrs. O. E. Moncus, 66-year-old great-grandmother, didn't feel up to doing her housework, but now, since she is taking HADACOL, she is able to do her housework without a mite of trouble. Mrs. Moncus found that HADACOL supplied Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which her system lacked.

Mrs. Moncus says: "I was weak, run-down, nervous and food didn't agree with me like it should. It gave me indigestion. And I had no appetite. I heard about HADACOL on the radio and how it had helped people who felt like I did. I had aches and pains, too, and these, plus the other things that bothered me, made me feel mighty bad. I just didn't feel up to doing my housework. I started taking HADACOL and after the third bottle I could tell I was a whole lot better. I have taken 18 bottles of HADACOL and I feel so good. I am no longer weak or run-down or nervous. I feel stronger and have pep and energy. My appetite is fine and I no longer have indigestion. And the aches and pains—why, they have been relieved so much. My weight went back to normal and I do my housework without a mite of trouble—mop the floors and clean the blinds and feel fine afterwards. I think HADACOL is wonderful. My husband takes it, too, as does my daughter. We make sure that there is always plenty of HADACOL in the house."

Tips On Tuning

Sporting events to be broadcast this coming week are at the minimum. Tonight, league play gets underway when the Titusville Rockets pay a visit to Warren to do battle with the Dragons on the Beatty court. There is no game next Tuesday and a week from tonight, the Dragons will go to Meadville.

The Sunday afternoon schedule will return to what it was before the professional football games started. If you will recall, WNAE had broadcast one program of the Orchestras of the World when the ball games were scheduled. This program has been running on WNAE-FM but it will be resumed this Sunday at 3:00 on WNAE. Because of the time that has elapsed, the first program of the series, featuring the Austrian State Orchestra will be repeated. This program, while having been broadcast before on WNAE suffered slightly in continuity. That was the day that Warren had its orange colored sky and there were frequent interruptions for news announcements. This series of programs has been made available through the Economic Cooperation

Program and features the finest musical organizations of the countries of the world being aided by the Marshall Plan. This series presents many new compositions by native composers that will be new to American listeners. You're invited to be listening this Sunday and every Sunday for the next 15 weeks for the special Orchestras of the World series on WNAE at 3:00.

For a long time, LeRoy Schneck has been talking about photography on Just Stuff or some other place. Now he can get all the ideas on this subject together in one place. The Camera Club Of The Air will make its debut on WNAE at 4:15 on Sunday afternoon. This program will not be something that only advanced amateurs can enjoy, but is designed for anybody who owns any kind of a camera. Making better pictures does not necessarily mean buying new equipment or learning a lot of highly technical rules. The Camera Club Of The Air will attempt to help you make better pictures.

The Ford Winner Trio will be back on the air again this Sunday night on WNAE-FM. Gwenn Winner was quite ill over the New Year's weekend and Ford asked that the program be cancelled for last week. Gwenn is expected back this week and the program will be on as usual at 9:30 on WNAE-FM.

Soprano Genevieve Warner and Baritone Francesco Valentino, both of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be the guest soloists for Mutual's "Sylvan Levine Opera Concert" broadcast Sunday, at 9:00 p. m. The singers will blend their voices to spotlight the "Pronto Io Son" duet from Donizetti's "Don Pasquale". Mr. Levine, MBS musical director in New York, will direct the orchestra.

A specially arranged musical program, to be beamed to Communist controlled countries behind the Iron Curtain by the Voice Of America, has been scheduled by the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra for its WNAE-FM "Music Of All Nations" broadcast Sunday at 10:00. Scheduled for performance by the orchestra will be Tschalkowsky's "Symphony No. 6 in B Minor" and two works by American composers, Hanson's "Serenade For Flute, Harp and Strings" and "McKoneky's Ferry, Concert Overture" by Anthell. Dr. Victor Alessandro conducts.

Make this Home Recipe to Take off Ugly Fat

IT'S SIMPLE. IT'S AMAZING. how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid ERMOTAF Concentrate. Pour into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly according to instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Teen-Age Interest in Boys
Is Natural—Don't Squelch It

"ALL that our 14-year-old daughter talks or thinks about is boys. And her friends are just as bad. How can we make her see how silly she is behaving?" writes the mother of a high school freshman.

Don't even try, Mrs. S. If you try ridicule you'll just make her feel you are "against" her and she will probably decide to keep things to herself, instead of being open and aboveboard as she is now.

"Love" often hits a class like lightning, and all of a sudden everybody in the room is paired off and all conversation becomes giggling boy-and-girl talk.

It sounds silly to grown-ups who aren't too good at remembering that they themselves went through the silly age, too.

But it's a mistake to side against teen-agers in anything as natural as being boy-crazy or girl-crazy.

JUST TRY BEING TOLERANT

LISTEN to the confidences your daughter brings you without censure, if they show nothing more than silliness.

When she and her friends get together and start their giggling boy-girl talk, treat it as the most natural thing in the world—which, of course, it is.

In a way you are on trial now. Be nonchalant about this first boy-girl craze. Then your daughter will decide you are pretty much all right and that it is safe to be her natural self around you and let you know what is going on at school and among her crowd.

But take a superior attitude toward her, and she'll decide you don't understand her and that in the future the less you know about her affairs the better.

You can't squelch young love, no matter how hard you try. But you can make a girl secretive and evasive by trying to squelch it.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

EXPERT PLAYS THE PERCENTAGES

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"The other day I had the pleasure of playing as the partner of a really fine canasta player," relates a reader of St. Paul, Minn. "We beat our opponents five straight games. However, he made one play that I am curious about.

"We had a good hand going, but our opponents were close to out, and we were therefore making our canastas as fast as we could. Eventually we were left with four canastas, a couple of small melds and two six-card melds.

"One of them consisted of six natural eight-spots; the other of four aces and two wild cards. My partner drew a deuce and melded it with the six natural eights. He thus gave up the natural canasta when he could have added the deuce to the aces, which were bound to wind up as a mixed canasta anyhow.

"Was there any good reason for this play?"

My correspondent really answered his question himself. He stated that his partner was a very fine canasta player. Such a player always has a reason for a play, particularly an unusual play.

Although the situation is not fully described in the letter, I imagine that most of the wild cards had already been accounted for. The expert was making a pertage play. He could complete only one canasta, and wanted to leave himself with the best possible chance to complete another canasta later on.

If no additional wild card came along, the second canasta could be completed only if one of the partners drew a natural card. With six eights down on the table, there were only two eights left to draw—but there were four aces. In other words, there was twice as much chance to draw an ace later on as to draw an eight.

Most players would leave the eights alone, but the true experts would do just as my correspondent's partner did.

Incidentally, there are many other ways of playing percentages when you have a choice of canastas to complete. Whenever you have a choice of canastas, you should complete the one with the greater number of natural cards in it.

For example, suppose you have a deuce to add, and the melds on the table include five naturals with one wild card and another of four naturals with two wild cards. Add the deuce with the five naturals. That will leave you with your best chance to complete the other canasta later on.

Another thing: Don't overlook the opponents' melds. To take an extreme case, suppose the opponents have already melded three sevens and that you have four sevens down on the table.

If you pick up a discard pile with several wild cards in it (which sometimes happens), you can cheerfully add deuces to those four sevens. It would be foolish to add the deuces to a meld that you might later turn into a natural canasta.

Security Agent To Be Here Monday

A representative of the Erie Social Security Office will be at Warren, in the basement of the Post Office, Monday, beginning at 1:30 p. m. He will issue social security cards to those who have never had one, issue new cards to those who have lost their original cards or have changed their names since making application for a social security number.

Mr. Farabaugh, manager of the Erie Social Security Office, says that many workers will need social security numbers for the first time beginning January 1, 1951. That is the effective date of the extended coverage under the amended social security law. People who work regularly in private households, regular workers on farms, and many self-employed people will be eligible for old-age and survivors insurance under the amended law.

The utility of the hope for perpetual motion applies also to electricity. If a motor is used to drive a generator, the generator will not produce enough power to run the motor because of friction and other losses.

MILK RIVER RANGE

Chapter 18

BUCK McKEE and the lazy N-S riders spent a busy night. Finally the buckboard went down the rain-swept wagon road, with Jim Tuttle handling the reins. Mart Tuttle lay under a canvas tarpaulin, pillowed on bedding donated by the crew.

Buck saw that each man was tense and angry, and wanted to move against Len Cavanaugh and his gunmen. They sat there, horses bunched, watching the buckboard and the riders go into the night.

"Okay," said Buck, "break camp."

Morning found the riders and the mess wagon high on the reaches of Buggy Creek. There was no dawn. Gradually the sky, despite the overhanging clouds and the rain, became a little clearer. The day would be leaden and heavy.

Tortilla Joe squatted beside Buck, his swarthy face black with whiskers, a scowl on his forehead. Buck shifted, stretched a leg. Already his thoughts were running ahead—and finding in the future no source of satisfaction.

"Cavanaugh missed that hand," he murmured. "But that wasn't the trump card in his deck, Tortilla."

"Eef she ees not the tromp card, Buck, then what is huh?"

"We are, Tortilla. We're worth twenty thousand bucks, if we turn up missing. When Judge Herdon comes back he'll lift the bail. But between now and then—well, just watch your tracks, fella, and don't let your gun ride too deep in leather."

"My head," promised the Mexican, "weel have eyes in the back."

ONE thing was decidedly in favor of the circle riders. The cattle were tired—dog-tired; and a tired cow or steer can't put up much fight.

When Buck and Tortilla rode into camp at noon, the herd had grown steadily. The lanky cow-puncher ran a comprehensive glance across the cattle and decided they had gathered most of them from that section.

"Wonder where Jesse Smith went?" asked a puncher. "Maybe he got killed an' we couldn't find him, or else he might have got scared an' pulled freight when the gun ruckus was goin' on."

"He might have got scared, and hightailed for home," said another.

They saddled fresh horses and rode out again working always to the south. Buck drew rein on a ridge, and looked at the heavens. Maybe the weather would clear and there would be a sunset, and maybe it wouldn't.

Below him, Buck saw Tortilla toiling on the slopes, running the cattle downward. The Mexican was tired and cold and saddle-weary. Buck lifted his eyes to the south, ran the horse across space. The hills were rapidly turning green; spring was on the land, and the land was responding.

Eyes somber, Buck studied the terrain, noting the rider coming across it. He pulled his mount back and hid him behind a huge boulder. Then, when the man came close enough, he recognized him as Sheriff Ike Jones.

Ike Jones rode up to the mess wagon. Buck saw him talking with Mack Bodkin. Finally the sheriff rode through the hills toward Buck. Buck met him on the rimrock.

"You get around, Jones," he said.

Jones looked at the sky. "Looks like we're due for some sunny weather. Yeah, I ride a little, McKee. They tell me you've lost Jesse Smith."

Buck nodded.

"You couldn't find Smith's body, huh?"

"Not a trace, Sheriff."

"Odd," Jones murmured. "Smith wasn't at his farm, either. I stopped there when I rode out to see Len Cavanaugh. He must have left the country. You haven't got any evidence against Cavanaugh a man could use in court, have you?"

"We shot down one of his men," said Buck. "But he must have taken the body with him—that is, if we killed the gent.

"You must have killed him, all right. I was looking over Cavanaugh's hands, and a fellow named Happy is gone. They must have buried him somewhere."

"Cavanaugh's smart," said Buck. "He'll break. He'll show an off feather that'll undo his twine. And when he does, let me know. Remember that, McKee. This valley can't afford to have a pitched range war."

"If we get anything on Cavanaugh, we'll take it to you, Sheriff," Buck promised.

"Do that," said Jones. "Well, good luck, Buck. It's a long ride into Beaverton." He made to turn his horse, stopped. "This jailer of mine—Wishbone Hanks—is heading out here today to ride with you. Told me he'd leave town this afternoon in order to make your camp at night."

Buck smiled. "Don't know what we'd use the old fossil for. He won't be much good on circles. Guess he could ride herd, though, and release a man for circle that way."

"He's a fine old fellow," said Jones. "You know, from a distance you and him look just alike in the saddle. When I rode up here to see you, I thought maybe Wishbone had already got out. You looked just like him until I got closer."

Buck watched the lawman ride away, then turned to the task at hand. When he gained the next ridge, the distance and the rise and fall of the land had hidden Sheriff Ike Jones. Buck let his thoughts dwell on the lawman. A fearless man, he reflected, one who hewed the line straight, let the chips fall where they might. "He'd jail his own father," thought Buck. "But first, he'd make good and sure the old man was guilty."

Buck could see the herd below him, and it was growing. He figured that at the present rate of growth, it would be back to the original size in another day. Then, with three days' work toward the river, the country would be worked to its capacity.

MILK RIVER RANGE

by LEE FLOREN

Chapter 19

WHEN Shuffle Watson left the Slashed Box 8, he knew he would never return. He had worked for Len Cavanaugh for two years, and between them there had been only mistrust and a studied watchfulness. But still, though he knew he would never see the Slashed Box 8 again, he did not look as he rode away.

Buck McKee and his partner would be easy to kill. All a man had to do was hole up in the rough country and shoot over a boulder, then ride south with two dead men behind him.

An hour later, he came in sight of a log cabin, set in the cottonwoods along the north bank of Milk River. Shuffle Watson entered. The place was dim despite the kerosene lamp burning behind the rough counter that ran the length of the room.

Shuffle Watson moved up to the bar. "Drink," he said, laying a handful of silver on the rough top.

Shuffle felt the raw whiskey soak into him, felt its worm glow. He liked that feeling. The whiskey, in taste, was neutering. But he did not take it for taste; he drank because of the warmth and confidence it imparted.

Secretly, he was a coward—and he knew that. Whiskey gave to him a strange, heady bravery. And now, with two killings ahead, he drank to bolster his sagging courage. He filled his glass again.

As the afternoon progressed, the whiskey went down. The heat of the fire in the big stove and the heat of the alcohol inside combined to make life pleasant for Shuffle Watson. But always, back in his brain, ran the thought of what he had hired out to do. And that made him think of Buck McKee.

Shuffle bought a quart of liquor and left. The rain had begun again, sweeping across the sagebrush. When Shuffle reached the hills, however, it had slackened. The ground was rocky, too, and the gravel footing made for faster riding. And Shuffle Watson rode hard.

Society

Tidioute Missionary Group Has Meeting

Tidioute, Jan. 4.—The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Kate Norton, with the president, Mrs. W. J. Prout, conducting the session. Mrs. A. V. Clinger had charge of devotions, reading scripture, calling for a period of silent prayer for peace, and closing with prayer.

Announcement was made of the February 6th meeting to be held in the church parlors starting at 10 a. m. and including a tureen luncheon for which Mrs. Ralph Smutz will be chairman. Mrs. Frank Buckingham will present a missionary film for the program. Mention was also made of the World Day of Prayer February 9th, when the service will be held in the church parlors.

Mrs. Prout then introduced the leader, Mrs. D. M. Thomson, who gave a comprehensive talk on "So Sure of Life" by Violet Wood. The book, title of which is taken from a Chinese poem, tells the story of Robert F. Thomas, home missionary, and the wonderful things accomplished in the Smoky Mountains.

At the close of the talk, refreshments were served by Mrs. Norton and her committee.

The music committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce announces its next concert, the third of this season, will be given at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, January 11, in the Woman's Club auditorium, with the Southernaires, radio, stage and popular quintet as the attraction. The committee reminds, also, that the house was completely sold out in the annual membership drive and no single admissions are available for these concerts, admission being by membership card only.

PRE-SCHOOL CLUB

Pre-School Mothers Club members will hold their January meeting Monday evening, starting promptly at eight o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Helen Lowe, 804 Cornplanter avenue, when Dr. E. R. Anderson will speak on "Your Children's Ears."

GUESTS FOR SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, Youngsville, were host and hostess last evening for a surprise gathering held in Saron Lutheran church to honor the 25th wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Clark, also of Youngsville.

REBEKAH LODGE

Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge will initiate a class of candidates at its regular meeting at eight o'clock this evening in the lodge rooms. Concluding a committee will serve refreshments.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

FOOD costs too much these days for any housewife to gamble on her recipes. That's where reliable cook books come into the budget picture.

"Family Fare," a 96-page book published by the United States Department of Agriculture for 25 cents, is one of the best guides to family cooking I have seen all year. It might be a very practical resolution for 1951 to order this little treasure house of recipes and food management from the United States Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C., and then practice what it teaches.

The newest addition to cookery books is "The Main Line Cook Book," by Ethel W. Stokes and Mary H. Huber of Philadelphia. It's a gourmet's guide to wonderful regional cooking. Certainly the food is magnificent even though generally the recipes and menus would strain the average budget. There are exceptions—many of them. Here is a delicious one:

Squash Fritters

One egg, ½ cup flour, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, 2 cups squash cooked, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons butter, melted, bacon fat.

Place egg in bowl, beat well, add flour, milk, salt and pepper, squash that has been previously boiled and put through a ricer, melted butter. Blend well. Add the baking powder, stir lightly together, drop from end of spoon into deep bacon fat 350 degrees F. Fry until a golden brown. For a variant: Grease the inside of baking dish well with bacon fat, fill with left-over squash and a dash of cream. Place bacon strips on top. Dust generously with cheese, bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until lightly browned.

For women who like to bake, Ann Seranne has written the new "Complete Book of Home Baking." It contains 1000 recipes, covering all about everything from strudel to angel food.

There are many other good new food books, including "The Practical Book of Food Shopping" by Helen S. Hovey and Kay Reynolds. Also "Good Food From Mexico" by Ruth Watt Mulvey and Luisa Maria Alvarez and "Continental Dessert Delicacies" by Alice Sidon of San Francisco.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, Spanish omelet, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, tart jelly, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast loin of pork, brown gravy, apple-sauce with horseradish, baked sweet potatoes, broccoli with buttered almonds, rye rolls, butter or fortified margarine, celery, olives, radishes, raisin-cranberry pie, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Oyster stew, oyster crackers, vegetable salad, devil's food cake, tea, milk.

A BIG JOB FOR 1951

In mobilizing the nation's resources and manpower to meet the emergency that faces us, telephone service plays a vital part. It must be fast; it must be dependable; and there must be as much of it as available materials make possible.

It's fortunate, therefore, that Pennsylvania's telephone facilities have grown so tremendously during the last five years.

Since 1945 we've put a million more telephones in service, more than half again as many as we had five years ago... and we're handling some four million more calls daily than we did five years ago.

We've added nearly 10,000 people to our telephone organization, too. Now, nearly 32,000 thoroughly trained and well-equipped Bell Telephone men and women bring to their jobs all the know-how, the experience, and the ingenuity that have given Pennsylvanians day by day service of high quality and have helped solve emergency problems in the past.

But we know that yesterday's expansion can't possibly meet tomorrow's needs. Still further expansion is the outlook for the telephone industry in 1951... with plans geared closely to the requirements of Government and defense preparation.

In addition, as far as material limitations permit, we'll keep on expanding our facilities for normal residence and business service.

You can be sure, come what may, that the men and women of the telephone company will continue to provide the best possible service at the lowest cost.

Jesus and the Four Gospels

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
FOUR Gospels in the New Testament, Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, tell the story of the earthly life, ministry, death, resurrection, and redemptive mission of Jesus of Nazareth. Agreeing and duplicating in many details, each Gospel has its distinctive character and makes its particular contribution to the record of the divine life and all four are necessary to the full Gospel story. At that, the full story has never been told. The author of the Gospel of John says (John 20:30) that Jesus did "many other signs in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book." He further says that if all the "many other things" should "be written every one," he supposes that even the world itself could not contain the books that would be written. There is another sense in which the Gospel story will never be fully told. The story of Jesus is continued in every soul that He blesses and inspires, and in every word and act of grace and goodness of which His spiritual Presence is the source and motive power. So, the greatest of all stories, the story of the Gospel, goes on and on. If one wishes to realize the distinctive contribution of each of the four Gospels, it is only necessary to consider what would be lacking if any one were left out. How incomplete the Bethlehem story in Matthew's Gospel would be, if we did not have the incidents and backgrounds as they are given in the vivid pages of Luke. And think of what distinctive things we would lack, if we had man and "A Prayer for Peace" by Johnson. Richard Pratt, organist, will play "The Old Year Is Passed Away" by Busch. Church school will convene at 10:00 o'clock. The first in a series of evening fellowship services will be held in Dunham Parlors at 7:00 o'clock, with devotions followed by a study of "The Endless Line of Splendor," and closing with a fellowship period. Allen Class will act as hostesses for the evening and the Youth Fellowship will attend.

Meetings of the week are Sunday school board at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday at the church; prayer meeting and Bible study at the same hour on Wednesday.

BETHLEHEM COVENANT
"The Price For Neglect" will be Pastor David Carlson's sermon subject for the 11 a. m. worship service at Bethlehem Covenant church. Holy Communion will be observed, and newly elected officers will be installed. The church choir will sing the anthem, "Let Not Your Hearts Be Troubled" by Carrie B. Adams. At the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic service, the subject is: "The Believer's Bank." Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. EPISCOPAL MISSION
Vicar William A. Chamberlain, Jr., of St. Francis' Episcopal church, Youngsville, announces two special events for Saturday, Feast of the Epiphany. Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 10 a. m. and a candlelight worship, "Feast of Lights," will be held at 9 p. m., with everyone interested cordially invited. Because of the Twelfth Night Burning of the no Gospel of John—the vivid story of the calling of the early disciples, the story of the Woman of Samaria, and the words of Jesus concerning true worship, the discourses to the disciples in the last days, and the bold words concerning freedom through the truth. If we could dispense with one Gospel, it would seem to be the Gospel by Mark, yet that Gospel has a distinction and quality all its own. Its omission of the Christmas story, as in Matthew and Luke, has no particular significance. Papias, one of the earliest of Christian writers, says that Mark had not personally known or heard Jesus; that he was an "interpreter" of Peter. Mark, through Peter, records such incidents as that of the naming of James and John "Boanerges," by Jesus (Mark 3:17). But what is essential is the simplicity and directness with which Mark makes vivid the Master's ministry from day to day. It is a Gospel of action. Characteristic is its frequent use of the word "straightway." If Papias is right, we may assume that Peter used the gifted writer, Mark, to make as real for later disciples the reality of the ministry of Jesus as Peter himself had known it. That is what Mark's Gospel may do for us. We may turn then to the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5-7), and to the discourse and philosophy of the Christian religion in John to obtain a vivid consciousness of the Teacher as the One, "Who went about doing good."

Greens by Girl Scouts of Youngsville earlier in the evening, this latter service was changed to 9 p. m. from the time previously announced.

AT ST. PAUL'S
"Brothers in Christ" is the theme selected by Pastor Nore Gustafson for his sermon at 10:30 a. m. Sunday in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The choir, under the direction of Harvey Horn, will sing "In Heavenly Love Abiding" by Brown. Mrs. Emil Jacobson, at the organ, will use the following music: Prelude, "Larghetto" by Mozart; offertory, "Serenade Tendre" by Harris; postlude, "Postlude" by Weigand. There will be no vesper service.

TODAY is pay day for all the folks who have classified ads.

High Court Hears Judge Eagan's Plea

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Lackawanna county Judge Michael J. Eagan formally requested today a seat on the supreme court of Philadelphia, and his counsel suggested that it might result in increasing the court's membership.

Judge Eagan "does not want to oust any other judge from this court," his counsel, Attorney J. Julius Levy, of Scranton, told the supreme court.

"We have found some merit in the proposition of 'packing' the court," Levy added.

The statement was made at the start of formal discussion before the court on Judge Eagan's claim that he was elected to the court last November. The Dauphin county court previously rejected the claim, and it was brought before the supreme court on an appeal by Eagan.

Taft Scores President in Senate Talk

views in advance of his speech.

Taft told reporters he probably would make a foreign policy speech in the senate some time during the afternoon unless there were developments to make the time inopportune.

But other Republicans took issue with President Truman's news conference statements yesterday that (1) American planes won't bomb Communist China without United Nations permission, (2) that he doesn't need approval of congress to send more troops to Europe and (3) that he isn't considering including Spain in the military assistance program.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, challenged the president's right to send more troops to Europe without prior congressional approval of that policy.

In a television broadcast last night, Wherry proposed that the United States give other U. N. members 15 days to produce a proportionate share of the troops for the Korean fighting or evacuate Americans fighting there.

Canteen Youth Unit Hears Report

Membership applications to join the Canteen were also handed out to the committee salesmen. The deadline of the drive was set for Saturday, January 27. Membership to the program is priced at $1.00 a year.

Following the business session, the group decided to hold a dance in the Canteen this Saturday evening from 8:30 to 11:30. Laura Cosmano, Pat Downey, Connie Barto and Ellen Henderson were appointed as committee chairmen, and volunteers were asked to serve with them.

Before closing, the unit members decided to set Thursday of every week as the meeting date, starting at 7:30 o'clock. This was done to avoid any question as to when meetings are to be held.

New Furniture Company In Sheffield Has Display In Warren Store

Sheffield, Jan. 5.—The Penn-Forest Manufacturing Company, recently organized by Emil and Albert Ristau, will place on display today in the windows of the Reliable Furniture store in Warren, sample bedroom suites manufactured in the new plant in Sheffield.

The new furniture is the result of more than eight months work in which the two brothers created and built the pieces with the help of a mere handful of employees.

R. D. Clark, of Hamburg, N. Y., who will direct sales for the new firm, soon will introduce the Penn Forest line at the Chicago Furniture Mart and later this spring at the Jamestown, N. Y. Furniture exposition.

The company plans to confine its efforts presently to a limited line of bedroom furniture, but will stress high quality-workmanship and efficient production capacity.

It is expected that the present small force will be increased to 50 or 60 employees as soon as production requirements will warrant the expansion.

Furniture dealers in the surrounding four states of New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio will have first opportunity with the new line. As the plant's production capacity increases, nationwide sales promotion will get underway.

The two owners, Emil and Albert Ristau are well known in the furniture business in this area. Emil spent 11 years with Paramount Furniture Co. in Warren, before launching into this new partnership with Albert, who was founder of the Reliable Furniture Store in Warren.

Cold Wave Checks Rise In Allegheny

Cold weather, for the third time this winter, checked a sharp rise in the Allegheny river after the stream had climbed perilously close to flood stage.

The river crested around 12 feet yesterday at noon, held that level until dusk, and then started ebbing slowly as colder temperatures set in.

By this morning, the river had dropped to 11.3 feet and was expected to continue to recede slowly.

Chinese Troops Pour Down Secondary Roads

deserted South Korean capital was still a mass of flames and smoke.

General Ridgway described the mass movement as "perhaps the greatest tragedy to which Asia has ever been subjected in the course of its long history."

He said the "issue is not Korea" but "whether some day the same thing goes on in America or the western world or whether we can keep it away from our shores until international agreements have worked the problem out in more orderly fashion."

In plunging down the icy mountain slopes of central Korea the Red armies were following the same path as their North Korean comrades when they swept over the lightly defended and demoralized South Korean Republic last July.

There were no Allied losses in men in the Inchon area reported to general headquarters here.

On land American and British units fought a brilliant rearguard action out of Seoul and onto the road to the southeast.

Splitting Up of Warner Bros. Empire

Brothers, of Oil City, at one time operated the playhouse and later it was acquired by the Columbia Amusement Company of Erie, and it was from this chain that Warner Brothers purchased it twenty years ago. It was in this theater that George C. Sarvis, manager of the Library, theater, was first heard as a vocalist in Warren.

The Justice Department stipulated that when the split-up takes place, the three Warner brothers—Harry M., Albert and Jack L.—must decide within 27 months whether they will remain in the production-distribution end or in the exhibition end.

McGrath said the Warners, who own about 24 per cent of Warner Bros. stock, have agreed to this.

New Idea In Magazine Advertising Is Introduced By Metal Furniture Maker

A new idea in magazine advertising has been inaugurated by Royal Metal Manufacturing Company, Chicago, makers of metal furniture for professional and commercial interiors, the firm which some months ago acquired the DeLuxe Metal Furniture Co., in this city. In their 1951 ads Royal Metal will recommend that their customers who cannot wait for deliveries should patronize Royal's more worthy competitors.

It is believed that this is the first time that an advertiser has deliberately recommended that his customers patronize competing concerns. Later in the year Royal Metal plans to mention its better competitors by name in the advertisements.

Metal allocations, government orders, and increasing consumer demand have strained Royal Metal's production facilities to the utmost, despite the huge 1950 expansion which saw the addition of two American factories and a Canadian plant. Consequently Royal Metal customers often must wait 60 to 90 days for deliveries. Therefore, rather than endanger their customer and dealer good will, Royal Metal is asking customers whose needs are urgent to patronize some of the other quality manufacturers in the metal furniture field.

The current trade magazine advertisements carry this message: "If your customers need metal furniture for immediate use, and cannot wait for Royal's extended deliveries, we suggest that you purchase from worthy competitors whose products of good quality we recommend. We believe that as a Royal dealer you should be free and flexible in order to protect your interest under today's unusual conditions."

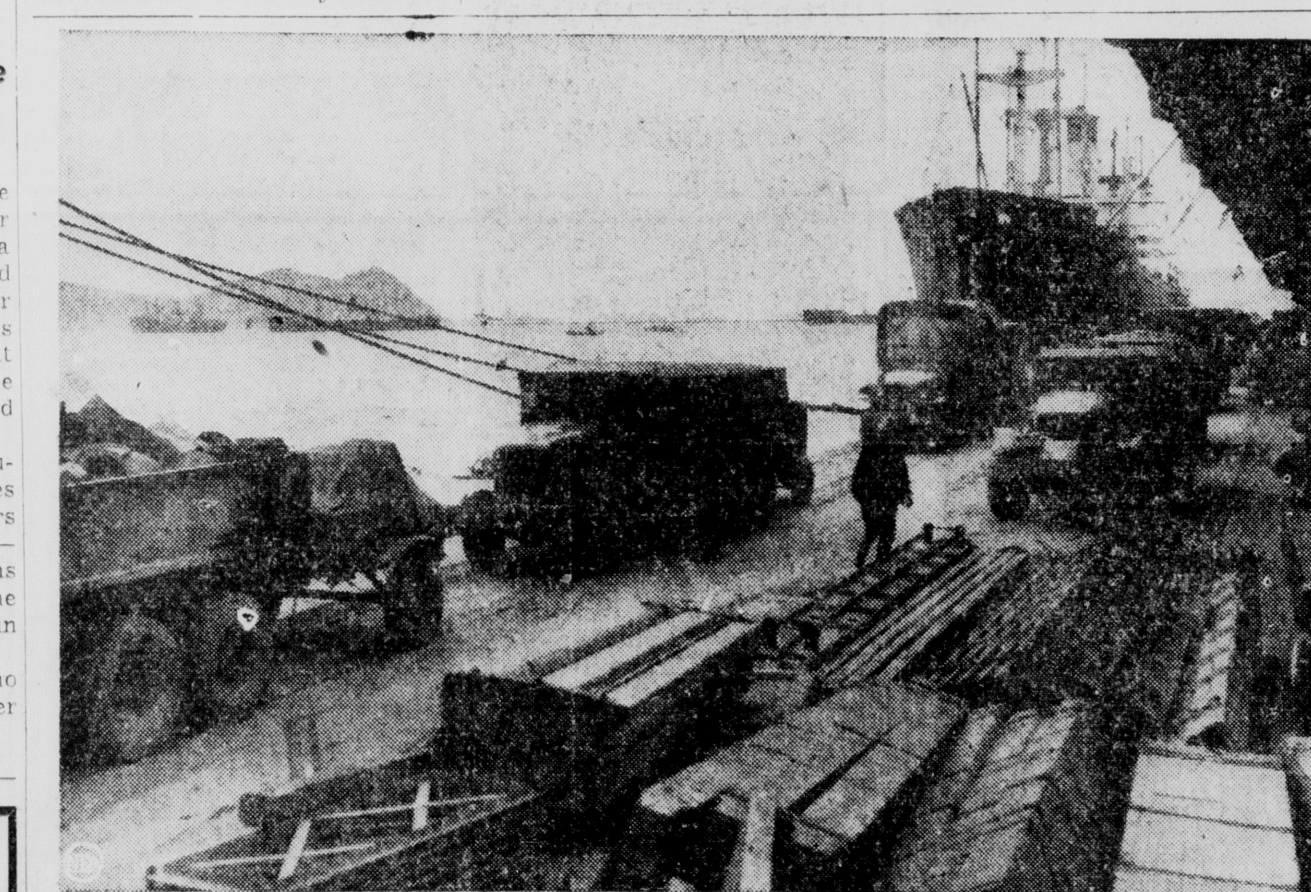

This unusual recommendation will be seen in all of Royal Metal's trade magazine advertising as well as in the national publications it uses. The latter include Nation's Business, Business Week, Newsweek and U. S. News and World Report.

Royal Metal's national advertising also is unusual, for it is written in old English style, based on the diary of Samuel Pepys. The advertisements are in the form of "The Diary of Peppy Royal," and feature short, unrelated items of human interest written in a semi-humorous vein.

For example, "Dec. 16th—To the office, there to ponder that the Good state of my trade hath a Bad side. Small satisfaction do I find in our workshops being so far behind in Deliveries. If so my Worthy Patrons can not forbear, may I suggest they seek my Competitors; most are Good people and make Good Products."

Democrats and Republicans alike predicted that congress wouldn't go along with any proposal which might result in lower prices for farmers. They said lower prices would mean smaller production at a time when the nation needs more food.

MISSIONARY CIRCLE

The January meeting of the Isabella Thoburn Circle was held in Dunham parlors of the First Methodist church Thursday evening, with Miss Estelle Roswell presiding. Miss Florence Lund, in charge of devotions, used as her theme, "Stewardship", stressing the giving of time and talents with tithing money.

Plans were made for special study courses and prayer services in preparation for Lent, and a sum of money, given by a member of the circle, was voted for supplies for the George O. Robinson Home in Puerto Rico.

The first half of the study book, "Islam", by J. Christy Wilson was reviewed by Mrs. W. G. Cable. Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. C. A. Miller, Mrs. Jay V. Blair, Mrs. Fred A. Lesser and Miss Joanna Bright. Miss Roswell presided at the tea table, which was centered with poinsettias.

FUNDS FOR HOSPITALS ARE LEFT BY BISHOP

Pittsburgh, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Five Pittsburgh hospitals will get $7,000 from the estate of the late Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, his will disclosed today.

The head of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic diocese who died last month also set up a trust fund for his brother, Michael, the only living member of his immediate family. The rest of his estate goes to the Catholic Institute of Pittsburgh for distribution among the poor.

THE MARKETS

New York, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The stock market stepped ahead smartly today with trading hitting a fast clip. During the first hour the ticker fell behind floor transactions by as much as two minutes. Advances ran well beyond a dollar a share in numerous instances, but the bulk of the rise was held under that figure. Steels and motors were most in demand with U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler and General Motors the most active issues and generally with the best gains. Both of these major groups have been in demand this week. The steel industry has been announcing repeated expansion plans and starting to effect previously announced programs to add to their productive capacity. Buyers were attracted to the motor group on the news that the government will let the automobile manufacturers present their side of the argument for higher prices on their wares. General Motors led a fight for increased price tags in December but had to roll back the hikes under direct government order.

Sect. 2 League Race Starts Tonight With Warren Dragons Facing the Titusville Rockets

Warren High basketballers stack up against a high scoring combine when they tangle with the Titusville Rockets tonight in the opening game of the Section 2, District 10 league campaign.

The game will be played at Beatty gym, starting at 8:30 o'clock. A preliminary is slated for 7:15.

The Rockets have played four games so far this season, and have registered four impressive wins. Their Point total for the four games is 218, or an average of slightly better than 54 per game. However, their defense hasn't been too strong, and their opponents have collected a total of 180 points, or 45 per game.

The Dragons will go into their first league contest with nine games under their belts, six of which ended in victory for the Blue and White against three setbacks.

The Massmen have amassed 374 points in the nine contests for an average of 41 per game. Their opponents have counted 345 points for an average of 38 per contest.

Style Shop Posts 7th League Win; Youngsville Toss Rockets

The Style Shop-Atlantic game was the feature attraction in the Y-City League last night, with the Stylists downing their opponent, 71 to 56. It was victory number seven for the winners against no defeats, as they maintained their average of over 68 points per game.

It was a fast, rough ball game all the way, each player peppering the basket with shots from all angles.

Gail Nelson led the victory for the Style Shop, popping up seven field goals and two charity tosses for 16 points. For the Atlantic five, Daczynicz and Bill Weidert paced with 13 and 12 points respectively. Jack White also had 13 for the winners.

Things were fairly even in the first period of the game, ending 12-10, but the Stylists continued to pull ahead for their 15 point win.

The Youngsville Merchants tightened their clamp on third place in the second league contest, downing the Rockets, 48-43. The victory was taken from the free throw stripe, as the Merchants made good six out of nine to the Rockets one in three attempts.

As a result of the triumph the Youngsville squad now claims a 5-3 record and the Rockets a 1-5, placing them in the cellar with the New Process.

Stu Smith, Youngsville, took scoring honors for the evening with nine twin-counters for a high eighteen. He was followed by Nick Creola, Rockets, with 17 to his credit.

Williams Takes On Jose Gatica Tonight

New York, Jan. 5—(AP)—Jose Gatica, burning with ambition to become South America's first world boxing champion, takes a big step in that direction tonight.

Gatica fights lightweight King Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., in an over-the-weight 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. If he wins or comes close he may get a shot at the crown next summer.

The thick-chested little fellow from San Luis, Argentina, is a 9 to 5 underdog against 27-year-old Williams. In his only U. S. appearance Dec. 1 he knocked out Terry Young in four rounds. Off what he showed that night, he rates a chance to score an upset. Gatica is 25.

Williams has not defended his crown since Dec. 8, 1949. As he weighed well over 140 in most of his latest fights, there is some doubt as to his ability to make the weight and still be strong. He won't have to make it tonight for it's a 140-pound contract, give or take a pound.

They are enthusiastic about Gatica and his swarming attack in South America, where he won all but one of 58 pro starts.

Funnies Are Used to Teach Fundamentals to Hoopsters

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Comics have been used in advertising, by the Army and in connection with hygiene and other courses at secondary schools.

Now funnies are being used to drive home the fundamentals of basketball.

One of his sons gave Frank Brickey the idea as far back as 1934, but it wasn't until this season that it spread to national proportions.

Like all drill-masters, Brickey, freshman basketball coach and football assistant at Utah, then attached to Duncan, Ariz., High, yelled himself rainbow-faced trying to impress a few fundamentals and training rules on youngsters.

Then one day Brickey studied the concentration of one of his brood reading comic panels.

If a kid that age will center his attention on an amusing cartoon while ignoring reading matter, Brickey thought to himself, why wouldn't older boys do likewise?

Brickey contacted Hal Empey, an artist known for western scenic postcards. They soon had a half dozen basketball don'ts on paper.

Brickey tacked them around lockers, dressing room mirrors and in the shower room. Lads who day dreamed when Brickey lectured got the point immediately. This was especially true when a teammate pointed out the similarity of one of the athletes to the figure in the drawing.

"Those little poster cartoons won me three consecutive state championships in Arizona," recalls Brickey.

"Coaches began asking how we won so many games. I had copies of the cartoons made, gave them to them. They passed the word on. By this time the expense was becoming a factor. High school coaches with families can't afford too expensive hobbies. I decided to put them up in a little pamphlet and charge one dollar for the engraving and mailing."

This season Brickey has had queries from coaches in every state in the Union.

Frank Brickey says that most schools using the cartoons find them to be as essential as the backboard and, of course, considerably less expensive.

They save coaches time because they act as a daily check list of good basketball habits.

Squads study them because they are attractive, humorous, forceful and have a point.

Thus visual education spreads to basketball.

PLAYER CAPITALIZED ON HIS GOOD LUCK

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
"Please answer a question about a very lucky hand," asks a Milwaukee correspondent. "We are wondering just how lucky the player was on this hand."

"East played the queen of clubs on his partner's opening lead of the king. West obediently continued with a low club, and dummy ruffed with the three of diamonds. "South decided that if West had passed with the ace and king of clubs, he could not have much else. Moreover, East's anxiety to short on dummy's trumps was an additional indication of the location of the queen of diamonds. Therefore, declarer cashed the king of diamonds and led the jack of diamonds for a finesse."

"South's troubles were not yet over. He still had a club to get rid of. He entered his hand with a heart to draw the last trump, discarding a low spade from dummy. Then he led the ten of spades to the ace and ruffed a spade. He entered dummy with a heart to ruff another spade with his last trump. Since the king and queen of spades dropped during this process, the dummy was now established.

this: Are the chances ordinarily so favorable to set up the jack of spades for the twelfth trick—or do you call this South just plain lucky?"

The chances are not ordinarily as favorable. The jack of spades will become established only if one opponent has the blank king-queen of spades or the king-queen with one small spade. This will happen just slightly more than 10 per cent of the time. The odds, to put it another way, are about 9 to 1 against such a fortunate break in spades.

I would not, however, say that this particular South player was just plain lucky. He bid his hand properly and played it for all it was worth. Angels can do no more.
If I were pressed, I would say that North was the lucky player. He overbid his hand and then was lucky enough to have a partner good enough to make the most of the partnership assets.

If North was so determined to bid a slam, he should have bid it in hearts. That slam would be made with a successful diamond finesse, even if the spades didn't become established.
For example, suppose a trump is led against a contract of six hearts (as good a lead as any). South wins with the ace, cashes the ace of spades, and ruffs a spade in the South hand. North wins the next trick with the king of diamonds and ruffs another spade in the South hand. (We will assume that this does not set up the rest of the spades.)

South now leads his last heart to North, and North leads a third heart to draw the last trump. South can discard a club on this trick (having used up two of his trumps ruffing spades). The diamond is then finessed, and South runs the rest of the diamond suit, discarding two of North's three

Decrease Is Shown In Unemployment Benefit Claims

Claims for unemployment compensation by the end of 1950 at the Warren office of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service had dropped by more than 75 per cent when the year ended, according to David W. Levine, office manager.

This trend was a reversal of the situation in 1949 which began with 467 claims and by December rose to 907 claims. Actual figures for 1950 show the year began with 907 claims and ended with 212.

Other figures released by the Warren office show 1,160 persons placed in the following occupational groups during 1950:

Professional, 13; clerical and sales, 224; service, 185; skilled, 20; unskilled, 679; and semi-skilled, 29.

In addition to placements, the Warren office reports 30,932 reception contacts, 1,600 new applications, 3,435 applicant interviews, 1,633 local referrals, eight applicant-holding referrals, 552 counseling cases, 251 proficiency tests, 103 aptitude tests and 400 employer visits.

During 1950 there were 2,286 initial unemployment compensation claims and 18,116 continued claims for approximately $362,320. Also 29 persons made initial claims for Servicemen's Readjustment Allowance and there were 658 continued claims for SRA for $12,960. The Warren office denied 190 persons compensation claims.

Conway, Patrick, Scallise, Shea and Vesting are expected to return to the Dragon squad next season.

Weldbank Family Has Four Boys In The Armed Forces

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jordan, Weldbank, who have four sons in the armed services, enjoyed having two of the boys home on leave over the holidays.

Pfc. Charles Jordan, who has just completed his 26-week course in airplane and engine mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas, had a leave at home with his family and friends before taking up a new assignment at Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois.

Another brother, Cpl. Delbert L. Jordan, has been with the 8th Army in Korea since July, and a fourth, Glen K. Jordan, of Warren, is currently completing his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Texas, and is expected home soon for a 10-day leave.

Sheffield Scout Club Has Meeting To Name Officers

Sheffield, Jan. 5—The Girl Scout Neighborhood club held election of officers Wednesday night at a meeting of the group held in the Friendship House. Mrs. Tom Sanford was named president. Other officers elected included Mrs. Robert Jones, vice president; Mrs. Norma Samuelson, secretary; Mrs. Russell Andrews, treasurer, and Mrs. Francis L. Borden, house chairman.

As a result of the meeting it was announced that Sheffield Girl Scout troops will combine efforts in a waste paper drive next Monday through Saturday.

Scouts will canvass the town leaving twine and tags on all doors and listing the day for collection at each dwelling.

This evening girl scouts will conduct their annual Twelfth Night ceremonies by burning the greens at Memorial Playground at 6:30 p. m. Earlier this afternoon the king and queen of Twelfth Night will be chosen from senior girl scout troops assembled in the Sheffield high school gymnasium.

Crash In Penn'a Ave., West Results In Heavy Damage

No injuries resulted but property damage ran high when a car, operated by Laura J. Ristau, 1 Lawn avenue, and a tanker truck owned by W. F. Crossett and operated by William K. Wetherell, of Salamanca, N. Y., collided on Pennsylvania avenue west near Laurel street yesterday afternoon at 4:15 p. m.

According to the police report, damage to the tanker was run as high as $2,000, and damage to the Ristau car was placed at about $125.

The report stated that the truck was headed west and that the automobile, proceeding east, went into a sideways skid. The truck driver, in an attempt to miss the automobile, climbed over the curb and struck a tree. His tractor-trailer jackknifed, with the rear end whipping around and striking the car.

Police routed traffic via Hazel, Fourth and Laurel streets until Pennsylvania avenue could be cleared.

COLLECTOR SUE

Executors of a Venango county man's estate sued a Collector of Internal Revenue for $88,481 in estate taxes the executors claim they were wrongly assessed. Individual and Oil City National bank executors of the estate of the late James D. Berry, Sr., claim they paid Revenue Collector Stanley Granger at Pittsburgh $85,256 in taxes on June 26, 1942. After an audit by the commissioner of Internal Revenue in Washington, the suit continues, executors additionally were assessed an alleged deficiency amounting to the total refund asked. The plaintiffs, Helen R. Berry, James D. Berry, Jr., and bank executors, charge Granger made an erroneous determination assessment and collection of the tax.

LARGE DAMAGE SUIT

Corry Journal: Frank Amoroso of South Center street was named defendant in a damage suit seeking nearly $50,000 filed in Erie county court Tuesday afternoon. The plaintiffs are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ferry on behalf of themselves and their son, Glenn. The Ferry car and one driven by Amoroso were involved in a serious auto accident five miles west of Corry on Route 6 at 1 p. m. on May 26, 1949. The suit lists Ferry as seeking $10,000, his wife, Doris $15,000 and Leo Ferry acting as parent of Glenn, $20,000 in addition to $2,500 for his wife plus $417 for medical and hospital bills incurred in treating injuries suffered by members of the family. Because of the heavy backlog of civil court cases, the suit is not expected to come to trial before next October.
